

Permitted start dates for in-person teaching for Oxford University courses from March 2021

Please note that the lists in the three columns are cumulative. The numbers of students in each cohort are listed beside the course name.

The lists exclude courses that already allowed to resume in-person teaching from start of HT21 or from week 5, including year 4 of integrated masters. In-person teaching for these courses can continue as at present.

If a course is not included on this list, it will not be possible to provide an in-person start date until further Government guidance is published. This is not expected to be before 5 April.
